Tertiary Pathway Program (TPP)

A pathway to university studies
UNDA Course Code 0137
2016

NOTRE DAME BROOME CAMPUS
The University of Notre Dame Australia is a tertiary institution and Registered Training Organisation.

The University's Broome Campus is ideally situated to provide programs for students in remote and regional Western Australia. Students studying on the Broome campus will have access to a team of dedicated staff and a caring learning environment.

The Broome Campus is a Campus of Reconciliation that demonstrates a strong underlying respect for Aboriginal history and culture; while offering opportunities for Indigenous and non-Indigenous people to succeed in their chosen fields.

COURSE OVERVIEW
The Tertiary Pathway Program (TPP) will provide students with the skills and confidence to study at a university level. The TPP will assist students to develop new methods of learning and strategies for success. The course aims to develop skills for independent learning. There will also be a focus on the essential study skills that are required when working as an individual or in a collaborative environment, including:

- Understanding the language and culture of an academic environment, including critical and reflective thinking;
- Developing essential mathematical skills and how to apply data and statistics in study;
- Developing academic reading and writing skills; and
- Developing IT, research and presentation skills.

COURSE STRUCTURE
The course is made up of four units of study:

- TPP001: Communication and Essential Study Skills
- TPP002: Essential Mathematics
- TPP003: Digital Research and Information Literacy
- TPP004: Writing for Tertiary Studies

COURSE DELIVERY
This program is delivered using the Regional and Remote Delivery Model (RRDM), which enables students to participate from anywhere in regional Western Australia.

Students will undertake TPP001 and TPP004 on the Broome campus. Further, they may require additional online activities either prior to or after the on-campus contact weeks. The remaining units will be available online, with Lecturer support.

Students can complete TPP over one Semester or up to a period of two years (4 semesters).

FEES
As a result of assistance provided by the Commonwealth Government for enabling programs, the Tertiary Pathway Program is a tuition FREE course for Australian citizens.

ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS
Applications are encouraged from people who do not meet minimum entry requirements for University or would like to increase their skills before entering an undergraduate course. Admission to the Tertiary Pathway Program is a process that will take into account all the characteristics, experience, knowledge and skills of a prospective student.

Applications will be assessed on an individual basis and are not reliant on a specific level of prior education. An internet connection is required for on-line components of the course.

FUTURE OPPORTUNITIES
The Tertiary Pathway Program (TPP) course is designed to assist students to obtain many of the skills that are required for university study. Students will also be able to use successful completion of the TPP as part of their application to study in a range of Notre Dame undergraduate courses on the Fremantle or Sydney campuses.

ACCOMMODATION
The Broome Campus offers quality on-site accommodation in the Student Village and Student Hostel. The residential areas provide low-cost, short-term, accommodation for students who attend block study programs. Enquiries can be directed to the Student Accommodation Manager on (08) 9192 0615 or Broome.CAV@nd.edu.au

APPLICATION PROCESS
To apply for the Tertiary Pathway Program, contact the Broome Campus via email at broome.courses@nd.edu.au for an application form. Your application will require a personal statement, any academic records and the nomination of two referees. If your application is accepted, an interview will be arranged.

UNIT DETAILS
The Tertiary Pathway Program is aimed at regional students across Western Australia and is designed to be delivered in a flexible manner, using the Regional and Remote Delivery Model.

Students are required to complete TPP001 Communication and Essential Study Skills at the Broome Campus, during a Block Week. This is followed by an independent study week.

Students then undertake the next two units online over a five week period. TPP002 Essential Mathematics and TPP003 Digital Research and Information Literacy are the online units. In addition the unit Lecturers will be available to offer further support.

The final unit, TPP004 Writing for Tertiary Studies is also an on-campus block week in Broome, followed by an independent study week.

Please refer to the table below for the options and timetable for each of the TPP units.
NB. Unit dates may be subject to change.
